

Become an Environment America Fellow: Fight for a green future. Learn what it takes to win.

My name is Dan DeRosa. I'm the Field Organizer at Environment New Jersey. We're a statewide citizen based environmental advocacy group. We're about clean energy, clean air, clean water, and protecting open spaces – right now our top priority is doing our part to stop global warming. And, we're hiring!

To learn more and apply, visit jobs.environmentamerica.org. Our early application deadline is Friday, February 14th at 5:00 p.m.

Environment New Jersey is part of the Environment America federation, a federation of 29 state-based groups with nearly 100 professional staff and more than 1 million members, activists and allies across the country.

Each year, we hire graduating seniors with the passion, the commitment and the talent it takes to stand up to polluting industries, fight for a green future and do what it takes to win.

Our Fellowship Program is a two-year crash course in the nuts and bolts of environmental activism, organizing, advocacy and the type of institution-building that can sustain long-term battles.

As a fellow, you're not just learning how to make an impact; you're making one. If you want to hear more straight from our current fellows, we put together a short video for you. You'll find it on our website here.

After two years as a fellow, you'll have learned the ropes, gained invaluable hands-on experience and you'll have made a real difference for the environment. Hear from two former fellows about the work they're doing now to fight fracking here.

To learn more and apply, visit jobs.environmentamerica.org or you can apply through Tiger Tracks by searching Environment America. Our early application deadline is Friday, February 14th at 5:00 p.m.

And if you're not graduating this year, you should apply to be an Environment America intern – you'll learn how to make an impact on critical environmental issues, and there's no better way to get the experience to launch your career with us.

Look for us at the Nonprofit Career Fair on Friday, February 14, 2014, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at Dillon Gym.

I look forward to hearing from you!

p.s. We're also organizing a Student Day of Action on campus on Thursday, January 6th. We'll fan out across campus to collect petition signatures to the EPA urging them to move ahead with new limits on carbon pollution from power plants, and record video messages to President Obama telling him why it's important to us that he tackle global warming now. Environment America is helping to organize these on nearly 40 campuses across the country, and we have a goal of collecting 4000 signatures. If you're interested in participating, let me know!
