URBAN STUDIES THESIS PRIZE

The Certificate Program in Urban Studies awards prize(s) to one or more senior theses that make an outstanding contribution to this inter-disciplinary area of study and are based on students' creative ability, persuasiveness and systematic way of doing research. Prize nominations are made by the students' home departments across the University.

CERTIFICATE PROGRAM IN URBAN STUDIES

The Certificate Program in Urban Studies is an interdepartmental plan of study for undergraduates that offers an interdisciplinary framework for the study of cities, metropolitan regions, and urban and suburban landscapes. With courses in diverse departments including anthropology, art and archaeology, history, African American studies, English, Latin American studies, Spanish and Portuguese languages and cultures, civil and environmental engineering, energy studies, sociology, politics, theater and Princeton Environmental Institute, along with the School of Architecture and the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs, the program encourages students to think about metropolitan centers in all their complexity as physical spaces; social, cultural, political, and economic nexuses; and historical artifacts.
